Is Maid of Honor.

GARDEN CITY, L. I., May 23.—Miss Pauline Peters, daughter of Ralph Peters, president of the Long Island Railroad, became the bride this afternoon of George Walker Pierpont of Manhattan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry V. Pierpont of Chicago.
The wedding was held on the north terrace of the home of the bride's parents.
Dean John R. Moses of the Cathedral of the Incarnation performed the ceremony.
The bride was dressed in white satin and rose point lace which had been worn by her grandmother upon her wedding day.
Her veil was of tulle and she carried a small bouquet of orange blossoms. Her sister, Miss Dorothy Peters, was maid of honor. She wore a gown of white net and lace, trimmed with blue chiffon, and a garden hat. George Lawrence of Garden City was the best man.
A special train carried guests to Garden City for the ceremony. Among them were Samuel Rea, president of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and Mrs. Rea; Mr. and of Miss Katherine Jennings, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jennings, to Chauncey Hackett, son of Mr. and Mrs.

Frank Hackett of this city, took place at today in the Jennings home on Sheridan circle. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Roland Cotton Smith, rector of St. John's Church in the presence of only members of the two families and a few friends. A reception and breakfast followed.

The bride was attended by her cousin, Miss Persis Coleman of San Francisco, as maid of honor; Miss Katherine Legendre of New Orleans, also a cousin of the bride; Miss Julia Meyer, daughter of the bride's father, as bridesmaid; and Miss Ruth Perkins as bridesmaid.

Rev. James C. Ford, pastor of Grace M. E.
Church, officiated. The bride for many years has been a soloist at the Baptist Church. The couple left for a honeymoon trip through Kentucky.

MEMBERS OF LONG ISLAND COLONIES OUT IN FORCE AT BELMONT MEETING

MRS. CODINGTON MRS. FLEITMAN and MISS LIDA FLEITMAN MRS. HENRY A. BUDD

SOME WELL KNOWN WOMEN AT THE BELMONT PARK HUNT MEET YESTERDAY

There was a good showing of society at the hunt meeting at the Belmont Park Terminal yesterday, the members of various colonies of Long Island turning out in force.

The favorable weather allowed for a brilliant display of costumes by the fami-nine contingent, and while a single tone of color seemed to rule for most of the costumes worn, that of blue, there were quite a few summery creations of other shades designed after distinctively odd fashions.

With August Belmont, Mr. and Mrs.
August Belmont, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. W. Scott Cameron.
Miss Emily Randolph and her fiancé, Philip Stevenson, were among the interested spectators, and Miss Edith Beaver Webb was with Mr. and Mrs. A. Butler Duncan, Mrs. Ogden L. Mills, and Miss Josephine Johnson among the late arrivals at the course, and Miss Angelica Schuyler Brown was there with her mother, Mrs.
James Brown.

Among others of the spectators were Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Warner, Mr. and Mrs. John E. Cowdin, Mr. and Mrs. Montaign La Montagne, Edward Pearsall Field, Harry W. Telfair, Mr. and Mrs.
Walter McLann, Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood Aldrich, Miss Ada Bracy Gray, Edward L. Norton, Jr., Carlisle S. Boyd, L. Stuart Wing, S. Bryce Wing, Philip La Mon-tagne, Mr. and Mrs. Wright Barclay, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pfeiffer, Arthur S. Burden, P. Burrall Hoffman, Jr., Alexander Wedell, Rene La Montagne, Henry V.
Day, Mr. and Mrs. Garrett B. Kip and Mr. and Mrs. Allan Pinkerton.
There were also present Mr. and Mrs.
Dave Hennen Coddington, Miss Susan Fish Dresser, John H. Bradford, Dr. Charles C.

new home on New Hampshire avenue, which is one of the suburban homes of the capital. Mr. and Mrs. Garrett will sail early next month for Europe to spend the summer.

William W. Cryder and his daughter, Miss Mary A. Cryder, have taken apartment at the Hawthorne Inn, East Gloucester, for the summer.

The Woman's National Democratic League will give its annual breakfast with 300 guests at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, May 25. Mrs. Wilson is honorary president and Mrs. Marshall honorary vice-president. Mrs. William A. Cullup is president. The guests will be seated at small

The Hippodrome and Forty-fourth Street Theatre Close.

The Hippodrome and the Forty-fourth Street Theatre brought their seasons to an end last night. "The Midnight Girl" began its long engagement on Washington's Birthday and will be acted next autumn in Chicago before it is taken to San Francisco.

The revival of "H. M. S. Pinafore" had a run of six weeks at the Hippodrome.
It is not announced that the production will be carried elsewhere.

OBITUARY.

The Rev. David MacMullen, former pastor of the Nostrand Avenue Methodist Episcopal Church in Brooklyn and its associate pastor for the past twelve years, died on Friday at his home, 576 Greens avenue, in his eighty-third year. He was born in Ireland, and after being graduated from the Wesleyan College joined the Irish Methodist Episcopal Conference and preached for several years. He came to America forty years ago and joined the New York East Conference and held many pastorates in Manhattan and Brooklyn. He leaves three daughters and one son, the Rev. Dr. William MacMullen, professor of practical theology at Drew Seminary and former pastor of the Madison Avenue Methodist Episcopal Church, Manhattan.

Mrs. Peter T. Rowe.

Mrs. Peter T. Rowe, wife of Bishop Rowe of Alaska, died at her home in Seattle on Friday. Mrs. Rowe was born in Scotland and came to this country about thirty years ago, when her husband, who up to that time had been a country missionary, became the rector of St. James Church, South Ste. Marie, Mich. From 1895, when the Episcopal Church sent Bishop Rowe to Alaska, Mrs. Rowe had lived in Sitka and Seattle. Although unable to accompany the Bishop on the long winter journeys over the snow trails which have made him famous throughout the religious world, Mrs. Rowe contributed largely to the success of his work by her devoted self-sacrifice.

John W. Carberry.

WASHINGTON, May 23.—John W. Carberry, who had been sent to Washington by the Boston Globe to report the Interstate Commerce Commission investigation into the New Haven Railroad, died suddenly this evening in his room at the Sheridan Hotel. Heart disease was the cause of his death. Mr. Carberry had been writing special articles for several months for the Boston Globe on the New Haven Railroad situation.

Alfred N. Chapman.

Alfred N. Chapman, who had long been connected with the Merritt-Chapman Company, died on Friday at the Methodist Episcopal Hospital after an operation for appendicitis. He was in his seventieth year.
His ancestors settled in Flatbush in the seventeenth century, and he was born in the old Clarkson homestead, at 1915 Church avenue, and lived there all his life. He was educated at Erasmus Hall and the Polytechnic Institute and was graduated from the Columbia College Law School in 1884.

SENATOR BRADLEY DIES IN WASHINGTON

He Was the Second Republican Kentucky Ever Sent to Senate.

WAS ONCE THE GOVERNOR

His Name Was Presented for the Vice-Presidential Nomination in 1888.

WASHINGTON, May 23.—Senator William O' Bradley of Kentucky, aged 67 years, died at his apartments in Washington at 9:45 o'clock to-night after an illness of a few days. His death was due to uremic poisoning.

Senator Bradley for many years was the recognized leader of the Republicans of Kentucky. He was a picturesque figure in many of the national conventions because of his splendid equipment as an orator. He served as a delegate at large at seven Republican national conventions.

Mr. Bradley seconded the nomination of Grant in the convention of 1880 and of Roosevelt in 1904. His speech in the convention of 1884 defeated a motion to curtail Southern representation. He received 105 votes for Vice-President in the national convention of 1888 and was indorsed for President by the Kentucky State convention of 1896.

Declined a Diplomatic Post.

President Harrison offered him a diplomatic post, Senator to Russia in 1899, which was declined. Mr. Bradley was elected Governor of Kentucky in 1895 by a plurality of nearly 9,000 votes. He was the first Republican Governor of Kentucky. He had been a candidate in 1887 and was defeated by 17,000 votes, but in that race he reduced the normal Democratic majority about two-thirds.
Mr. Bradley was the choice of this party many times for United States Senator when that party was in the minority and was elected in February, 1908, by a Legislature that had a Democratic majority of eight.

Only a few days ago Senator Bradley made a speech of nearly three hours in opposition to the tolls repeal bill which was considered a remarkably strong presentation of the case. He appeared to be in fairly good health that day.
About a week ago, while trying to board a street car near the Capitol, he fell, was badly bruised and had to go to bed. The affection of the kidneys from which he had suffered for some time was aggravated by the shock and his case suddenly became grave and for two days his condition had been regarded as hopeless.

His only child, Mrs. Christine South, wife of Dr. G. South of Frankfort, Ky., arrived at noon to-day, but her father had been unconscious since yesterday. The Senator's widow is ill at Frankfort.

Ran Away to the War.

Mr. Bradley had a remarkable career.
He ran away from school at 14 to join the Union army in the civil war. His father followed him and brought him back home. He served as a page in the lower house of the Kentucky Legislature and was so popular with the members that he was licensed to practice law by a special act of the Legislature when he was only 18 years old, a compliment bestowed on him in recognition of his remarkable ability. He was county attorney and was honored with a degree of doctor of laws by the Kentucky University.

Senator Bradley's death will result in another gain for the Democrats in the Senate. The Governor of Kentucky, a Democrat, will fill the vacancy. He was elected under a special act of the Kentucky Legislature passed since the adoption of the constitutional amendment for direct election for Senators.

This act will go into effect June 16, and the Governor will probably appoint a Senator to be elected by the people to fill the unexpired term, or until March 1915, and at the same election a Senator will be elected for the full term of six years beginning March 4, 1915, on which date Senator Bradley's term would have expired.

William Fletcher Sorey.

ATLANTIC HIGHLANDS, N. J., May 23.— William Fletcher Sorey, a retired cotton merchant, succumbed to a stroke of apoplexy at his summer home this morning.
He was 74 years old. Born in Norfolk, he was one of the first to take up arms with the Confederacy and was rewarded for bravery at Gettysburg.

At the close of the war he went to New York city and became associated with the firm of Morgan & Co. He went to New York yesterday, returning last evening in apparently good health.

of Norfolk, and a niece, Mrs. Ashley Miller, are the only surviving relatives.

Frank McCammon.

Frank McCammon, whose engagement to Miss Mary E. Lewis, daughter of Charles F. Lewis, former leader of the Republican party of Nassau county, who lives at Port Washington, L. I., died on Friday night at the Nassau Hospital, Mineola. Mr. McCammon, who was the New York representative of the American Woolen Company, spent the week ends at the Port Washington Yacht Club, and after playing tennis with his fiancée two weeks ago went in swimming and contracted a severe cold. Pneumonia developed.

Emil William Grewey.

YONKERS, N. Y., May 23.—Emil William Grewey, a retired architect, who formerly had an office in the Metropolitan Building in Manhattan, died in his home at 31 Ravine avenue to-day from a complication of diseases. He was born in Belgium seventy years ago and had lived in Yonkers thirty-five years. He had served as Health Commissioner here. He is survived by his wife, who was Miss Elizabeth Durenfeld of New York, and by a son and daughter.

George William Russell.

YONKERS, May 23.—George William Russell, a retired oil merchant and former officer in the British army, died at the home of his son, George W. Russell, Jr., on Park Hill to-day. Mr. Russell was 79 years old. Leaving the army in the early '70s, he went to London, Canada, and several years afterward engaged in the oil business in Denver, Col. He came to Yonkers seven years ago. He is survived by a daughter and two sons.

Freeman Clarkson.

Freeman Clarkson, a member of the Brooklyn law firm of Dana & Clarkson, died on Friday at the Methodist Episcopal Hospital after an operation for appendicitis. He was in his seventieth year.
His ancestors settled in Flatbush in the sev-
old Clarkson homestead, at 1915 Church
avenue, and lived there all his life. He was educated at Erasmus Hall and the
